GREENE COUNTY FAIR OPENS THREE KILLED WHEN ARBUCKLE TO WED REPORT LACKS

ANNUAL EXHIBIT IS LAUNCHED TUESDAY FOR FOUR DAY SHOW

Program Gets Under Way Wednesday; Is 92nd Year

The Greene County Fair, that hardy perennial established in 1839 will observe its ninety-second birthday with an annual four-day exposition at the Xenia fairgrounds Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday this week.

In its 92nd year, the fair, officials say, maintains as its foundation the principals on which it was founded nearly a century ago—the betterment of agricultural conditions, the advancement of industry and a complete exposition of diversified phases of human endeavor in Greene County during the last year.

The four days of the fair constitute an annual festival in which everybody, city and country dwellers alike may participate. In recent years this "show window" of the county's progress in agriculture and industry has established many records in the number and quality of its exhibits and visitors have been amazed at the wide field covered by the products on

MERCURY FALLS AS RAIN OCCURS HERE

An eight-degree drop in temperature was experienced following a rain which fell in torrents for a short time early Monday afternoon, marking the first precipitation in nearly two weeks. Streets were flooded when storm sewers failed to carry off the water.

The showers was apparently confined to a limited locality, how ever, as residents north of the city reported only a slight sprinkle fell during the afternoon. The peak temperature Monday was 91 degrees, four degrees below Sunday's high, but by 6 p. m. the mercury had skidded to 78 de grees. The extent of the rainfall could not be gauged inasmuch as no precipitation was recorded at he Xenia weather observatory. It was somewhat cooler Tues day and abbreviated shower in the morning served to dampen the streets and sidewalks if nothing more. Generally fair and warmer weather is the handwriting on the wall for Wednesday.

TOO MUCH BARGAINING

The stand taken by Judge James H. Wilkerson of the federal bench in Chicago, in dealing with the Capone case, deserves the hearty approval of the country, insofar as it signifies a refusal by the court to take orders from the department of justice in Washington when imposing sentence, and is a declination to become a party to any plan are as crooked as lightning boltswhich would enable a notorious character to "get off easy." It is good can scarcely be termed immoral. to find Judge Wilkerson rebuking the department and telling it flatly that "it is impossible to bargain with a federal court." If all judges in floor sit ten or fifteen girl hostall American courts would take a similar attitude, the administration of justice in this country would take on a new meaning.

There are times, no doubt, when by resorting to bargaining, prose- don. Their mission is to give the cuting officers and courts manage to make wrongdoers, who might management some sort of pretext otherwise go scot free, suffer a part of the proper penalty for their erned in size only by the probable misdeeds; but too frequently bargaining is an easy way out for lazy or ircompetent officials, or for officials who want to make a "showing" wish to emerge whole of limb. and are more anxious to establish a "good record" which will bring them "credit," than they are to make the laws really feared and re- up" than to enter into conversation spected. The whole practice of bargaining where there is reasonable ground to believe a person can be convicted of deliberate crime, is wrong and world why they should not be vicious. Judge Wilkerson has performed a public service by taking a definite stand against it.

His resummoning of the grand jury could not have been reassuring to Capone, nor his statement from the bench "that in the enumeration of overt acts, the defendants and others are charged with offenses within the period of the statute of limitations for which a heavier penalty is provided than that possible under the conspiracy indictment."

If Capone got the full significance of the court's words, no wonder the perspiration rolled down his face.

IMPOSING MONUMENT

While folks down in Virginia are trying to rob the Yorktown pageantry this fall of its chief spectacle, an imposing monument to the American commander who destroyed British power on the Great Lakes in the war of 1812 is dedicated at Put-in-Bay, Ohio. The oppon- New York? Address James Aswell, money, but of late there has been and intensely energetic. ents of staging "Cornwallis' surrender" at Yorktown are afraid that it care of this paper, and enclos might offend the sensibilities of our British friends. When Canadians join with Americans in commemorating the battle of Lake Erie, any such fear respecting the Yorktown festivities seems groundless.

Although it is true that what happened at Yorktown in 1781 and what happened on Lake Erie on September 10, 1813, differed greatly in their effects on history, a defeat is a defeat, a victory is a victory. Yorktown virtually terminated British authority in the thirteen revolting colonies. Commodore Perry's victory off Put-in-Bay contributed to the termination of something else. While it is true that, with the exception of the clean-cut successes on Lakes Erie and Champlain and at New Orleans American arms did not come out of the war of 1812 with added feathers to their cap, Great Britain never afterwards searched our ships and impressed our seamen.

But if it was less decisive in terminating things, the battle of Lake Erie started something to the importance of which those of us who live close to either side of the border cannot be insensible: It was the beginning of disarmament on the lakes. It was the last naval engagement fought on those inland seas. It inaugurated more than a century of peace with Canada, which has been a blessing to her, as well as to the United States; and an example to Europe, as yet unappreciated. That is the point to be remembered; for it is that fact which enables Americans to remember the battle of Lake Erie without gloating, Canadians to look back over the years that have followed it, without any feeling of humiliation.

REDS TIE RECORD FOR SHUT-OUTS

NEW YORK, Aug. 4-If the Cincinnati Reds can only lose a couple of more ball games this week, they are going to give a lot of unemployed printers some nice jobs revamping the record books. And if they manage to connect with one or two more shutout defeats, they promised to take their place right at the head of the list for non-winning efforts. The Reds tied the all-time ma for League record yesterday as 10 they crumpled before the Chicago Cubs. 8 to 0. It was their fourth consecutive shout. No team has 5 0 x-7 ever reached the humility of five Haller and consecutive horse-collarings, but great things may be expected of Herrioit had sued the "illage for $359, charging that his auto, driven along Barber St., by Robert Ferriman, his employe, became unmanageable owing to the rough condition of the thoroughfare, and that it was damaged when it careened off the street and made an abrupt descent of twelve feet into the quarry.

The street, Herriott aserted, had been coated with crushed stone to a width of twenty-two feet and up to the brink of the quarry was filled with holes and ruts. The village was accused of negligence in not erecting a barrier or guard rail along the quarry's edge and in not furnishing signs warning autoists of the dangerous condition of the street.

ANNUAL EXHIBIT IS LAUNCHED TUESDAY FOR FOUR DAY SHOW

Program Gets Under Way Wednesday; Is 92nd Year

The Greene County Fair, that hardy perennial established in 1839 will observe its ninety-second birthday with an annual four-day exposition at the Xenia fairgrounds Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday this week.

In its 92nd year, the fair, officials say, maintains as its foundation the principals on which it was founded nearly a century ago—the betterment of agricultural conditions, the advancement of industry and a complete exposition of diversified phases of human endeavor in Greene County during the last year.

The four days of the fair constitute an annual festival in which everybody, city and country dwellers alike, may participate. In recent years this "show window" of the county's progress in agriculture and industry has established many records in the number and quality of its exhibits and visitors have been amazed at the wide field covered by the products on

Apart from the exhibits and amusements of the mid-way, there will be a three-day harness horse meeting Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons for which a bumper crop of fast trotters and pacers has been entered. The speed program gives every promise of as-

In addition to the three killed in the rict, all Negroes, others, including several police, were inwere incited by Communist leaders. MERCURY FALLS AS RAIN OCCURS HERE

An eight-degree drop in temper ature was experienced following a rain which fell in torrents for a short time early Monday after noon, marking the first precipita tion in nearly two weeks. Streets were flooded when storm sewers failed to carry off the water.

The showers was apparently confined to a limited locality, however, as residents north of the city reported only a slight sprinkle fell during the afternoon.

The peak temperature Monday was 91 degrees, four degrees be low Sunday's high, but by 6 p. m the mercury had skidded to 78 de grees. The extent of the rainfall could not be gauged inasmuch as no precipitation was recorded a Xenia weather observatory. Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer-the finest from Turkey-the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas-the Cream of many Crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process-a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray-expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip*, as well as a powerful spraying solution for fruits, flowers and shrubsenough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out-so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.
